LETTER OF INTENT

Date: 03-18-2025

Between

Rashomon e.V.

and

Film Spring Open Foundation

Subject: Cooperation in the field of AI education for the audiovisual (AV) industry

Dear Sławomir Idziak,

Following our online meeting on March 17, 2025, Rashomon e.V., operating the Sommer Film Akademie in Görlitz, confirms its intent to collaborate with Film Spring Open Poland in the development and implementation of AI education programs for the audiovisual industry.

This collaboration, contingent on securing fundings, aims to provide high-quality, innovative training through the following initiatives:

- Six online courses focused on AI applications in the AV sector,
- Three practical courses conducted via a mobile Cinebus in Görlitz (Germany), Cabestany (France), and Olsztyn (Poland),
- Scholarships for outstanding participants to support talent development and international exchange.

We acknowledge the regulatory requirement that 20% of course participants must originate from the organizing country. Therefore, we understand and support Film Spring Open Poland's decision to submit an independent funding application, and we are pleased to provide this Letter of Intent as confirmation of our commitment to the project.

Rashomon e.V. / Sommer Film Akademie is eager to contribute its expertise and network to this initiative. Our work in film education, including AI-driven AV training for children and young professionals, aligns with the project's goals and adds value to the partnership.

We appreciate the invitation to participate in the Film Spring Open workshops in October 2025 in Kraków, where we look forward to further discussing and expanding our collaboration.

All further formal agreements and detailed cooperation frameworks will be established in a dedicated cooperation agreement, to be developed jointly by all partners.

We look forward to working together and fostering innovation in AI education for the AV industry.

Sincerely,

Sebastian Schönberger
